New Members: None

Announcements: Dave Hackenberg announced that the next meeting will be on March 23, NOT Mar.16th to accommodate the availability of Eric Hein who will tell us how to post to the club's website.

Open Discussion:

1. It was discussed whether to have just one meeting a month and, if so, whether it would be the first Thursday or the second Thursday. By a vote of hands, one meeting a month beginning in April and on the first Thursday.
2. As Dennis Evans has indicated that he will no longer attend nor maintain the website we will need to decide if a membership chairman is needed and how the website will be maintained. There was no significant discussion, but nobody objected to eliminating the membership chairman and there were no volunteers to maintain the website. Eric Hein will continue to maintain the Freeware page.
3. There was a discussion on the need for post meeting minutes. It was decided that we would still produce them, but Dave Hackenberg offered to email a copy to all attendees instead of posting them to the website. Dan Lee pointed out that we should at least list the presenters for each date. Presentation powerpoints should also be posted.
4. There was a discussion of possible new names for the club with an emphasis on broader technological topics and how they are useful rather than on the narrow subject of Windows Computers.
5. AI was discussed.
6. Internet services, speeds, and costs were discussed.

Presentation: None

Future Meetings:

- The next meeting will be at the Center on Thursday, March 23rd.
